

Name of Course: Interpreting Construction Documents, (Blueprint Reading)

Project Implementation/Reasons Why

Date of Course: Tuesday, January 24, 2023 Time: 9:00 am

Location of Class: Regina Construction Association Office

Member Cost: $500.00 Non-member Cost: $700.00

Registrations Close: Wednesday, January 18, 2023

Corporation # _____

How to read, interpret and understand the hieroglyphics of construction documents and specifications. Provides an introduction into understanding how documents are formatted, where to find information, how information is formatted and the different styles of documentation typically used in the industry. Understand the basics necessary to review and understand typical construction documents (drawings and specifications).

An overview of the process after a contract is awarded and begins/continues through construction. Understand the bid protocols, issuing changes to the construction documents, responsibilities and liabilities. The course includes a review of the typical administration for contracts and construction including changes or modifications during the process along.

An overview into the critical decision path associated with architecture and construction to illustrate why certain elements are included or detailed. Understand the impact of changes on a project and the responsibilities and liabilities related to change management. Reinforces the value towards the execution of a full set of construction documents.

Company Name:	Phone Number:
Contact Name:	Email:
Registrant Name:	Email:
Registrant Name:	Email:
Registrant Name:	Email:

To Register

Email: info@rcaonline.ca

Online: Click here

Payment Options:

Cheque:
VISA – Card #	Expiration Date:
MasterCard – Card #	Expiration Date:

Breakfast and Lunch Included