

Jr. Geologist, Mine (41164)

Location: McArthur River, SK

About Us

McArthur River

McArthur River, located in northern Saskatchewan, is the world's largest high-grade uranium mine. The uranium produced at McArthur River is used for nuclear fuel products, which utilities around the world rely on to generate safe, reliable, emissions-free nuclear power. Cameco is one of the largest global providers of the uranium fuel needed to energize a clean-air world.

The Role

Reporting to the senior mine geologist, you will be responsible for the management of tasks and duties with the McArthur River geology department. You will work collaboratively within the department and engage site stakeholders on improvement opportunities and initiatives in this entry level position.

In this role, you will:

- Provide oversight for diamond drill core logging and sampling, underground development mapping, computerized data management and data quality assurance/quality control (QA/QC).
- Conduct downhole deviation survey and radiometric survey.

Required:

- Bachelor's degree in geology or geological engineering
- Up to three years of relevant geological experience
- Strong verbal and written communication skills, excellent computer skills and the ability to work in a team environment
- Ability and willingness to perform manual labour, including heavy lifting as required for this position
- Valid class 5 driver's license
- Safety-oriented work attitude
- Work a rotational schedule and commute to site by aircraft

Recommended:

- Previous experience with exploration or in a mine geology work environment

- Experience working underground

Conditions of Employment:

- Substance test

Cameco is proud to offer a competitive total reward package which includes:

- Competitive compensation program with base and variable pay
- Flexible health, drug, dental, and vision plan with a health spending and personal spending account
- Fixed benefits including employee and dependant life, AD&D, disability benefits and paid vacation leave
- Employee & Family Assistance Programs
- RRSP and RPP matching program
- Career development opportunities
- Relocation costs

Cameco is an employment equity employer and aims to achieve gender parity, and as such, preference will be given to qualified members of equity groups. We are strengthened by the diverse backgrounds of experiences and encourage applicants with various levels of expertise to apply, as equivalent combination of education and work experience are considered.
